

Biography - John DeGeorge

John DeGeorge, BSEE, CPP, is a Principal and Vice President of Consulting.

Mr. DeGeorge has over twenty five years of experience in the security industry, advancing through engineering, sales & marketing management, and integration company ownership.

He became the Director of Security & Life Safety at the New York Stock Exchange in 2002, where he directed the upgrade of all security and life safety systems. Following the NYSE Euronext merger, he performed vulnerability/threat assessments and security system evaluations at sites throughout Europe, resulting in security system globalization. His worldwide responsibility included all security technology at NYSE Euronext sites worldwide. Under his management and direction the physical and electronic security elements deployed at two new data centers represents the leading edge of currently available technology.